WE have great pleasure in submitting illustrations of our MANTELPieces, OVERDOORS, PANELLINGS, &c., showing, in addition to the Patterns in our late catalogue, a further selection of our NEW DESIGNS, including Fitment Interiors, &c., which, with other examples, may be seen at our various Showrooms.

We manufacture our Cabinet and Joinery Work at our STEAM WORKS in Fleet Street, Liverpool, where we have a LARGE STOCK OF THOROUGHLY SEASONED WOODS of every description, and at our factory in London, where our Specialities and Contract Work may be seen in every stage of construction.

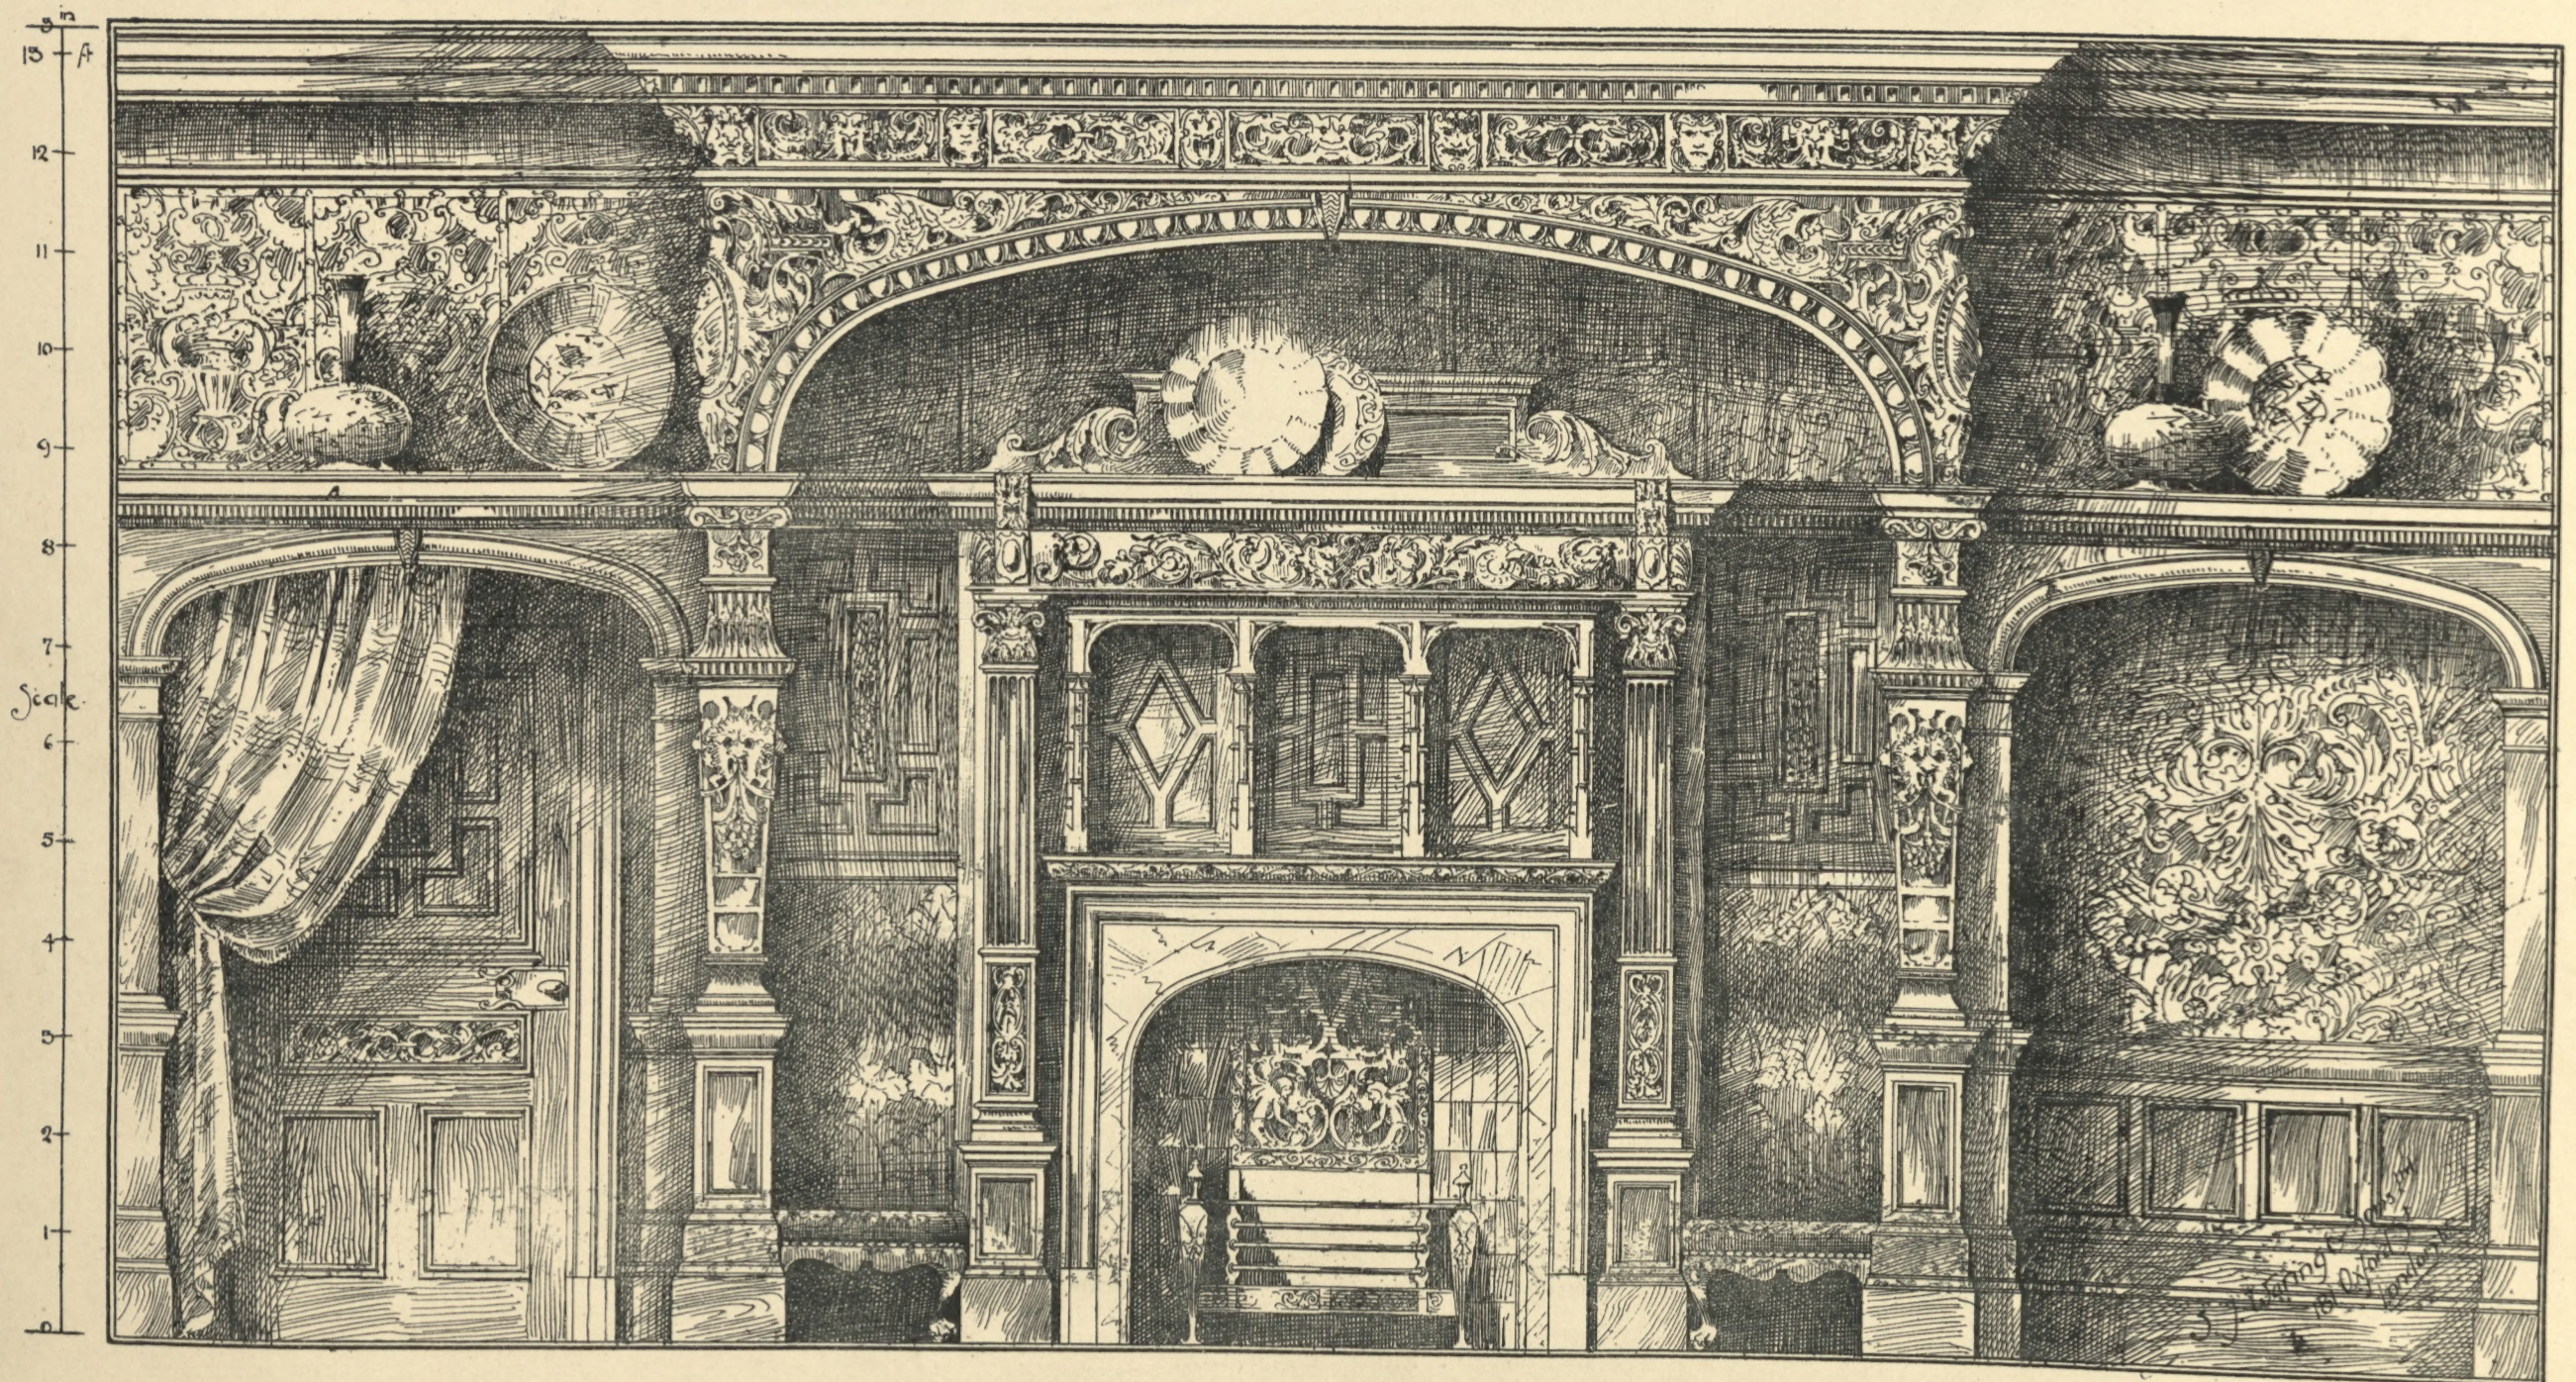

We endeavour to keep all the patterns illustrated in this book in stock in various woods.

ARCHITECTS' OWN DESIGNS ESTIMATED FOR AND CAREFULLY CARRIED OUT.

* The prices are arranged for Nett Cash, with free delivery within the Four miles radius.

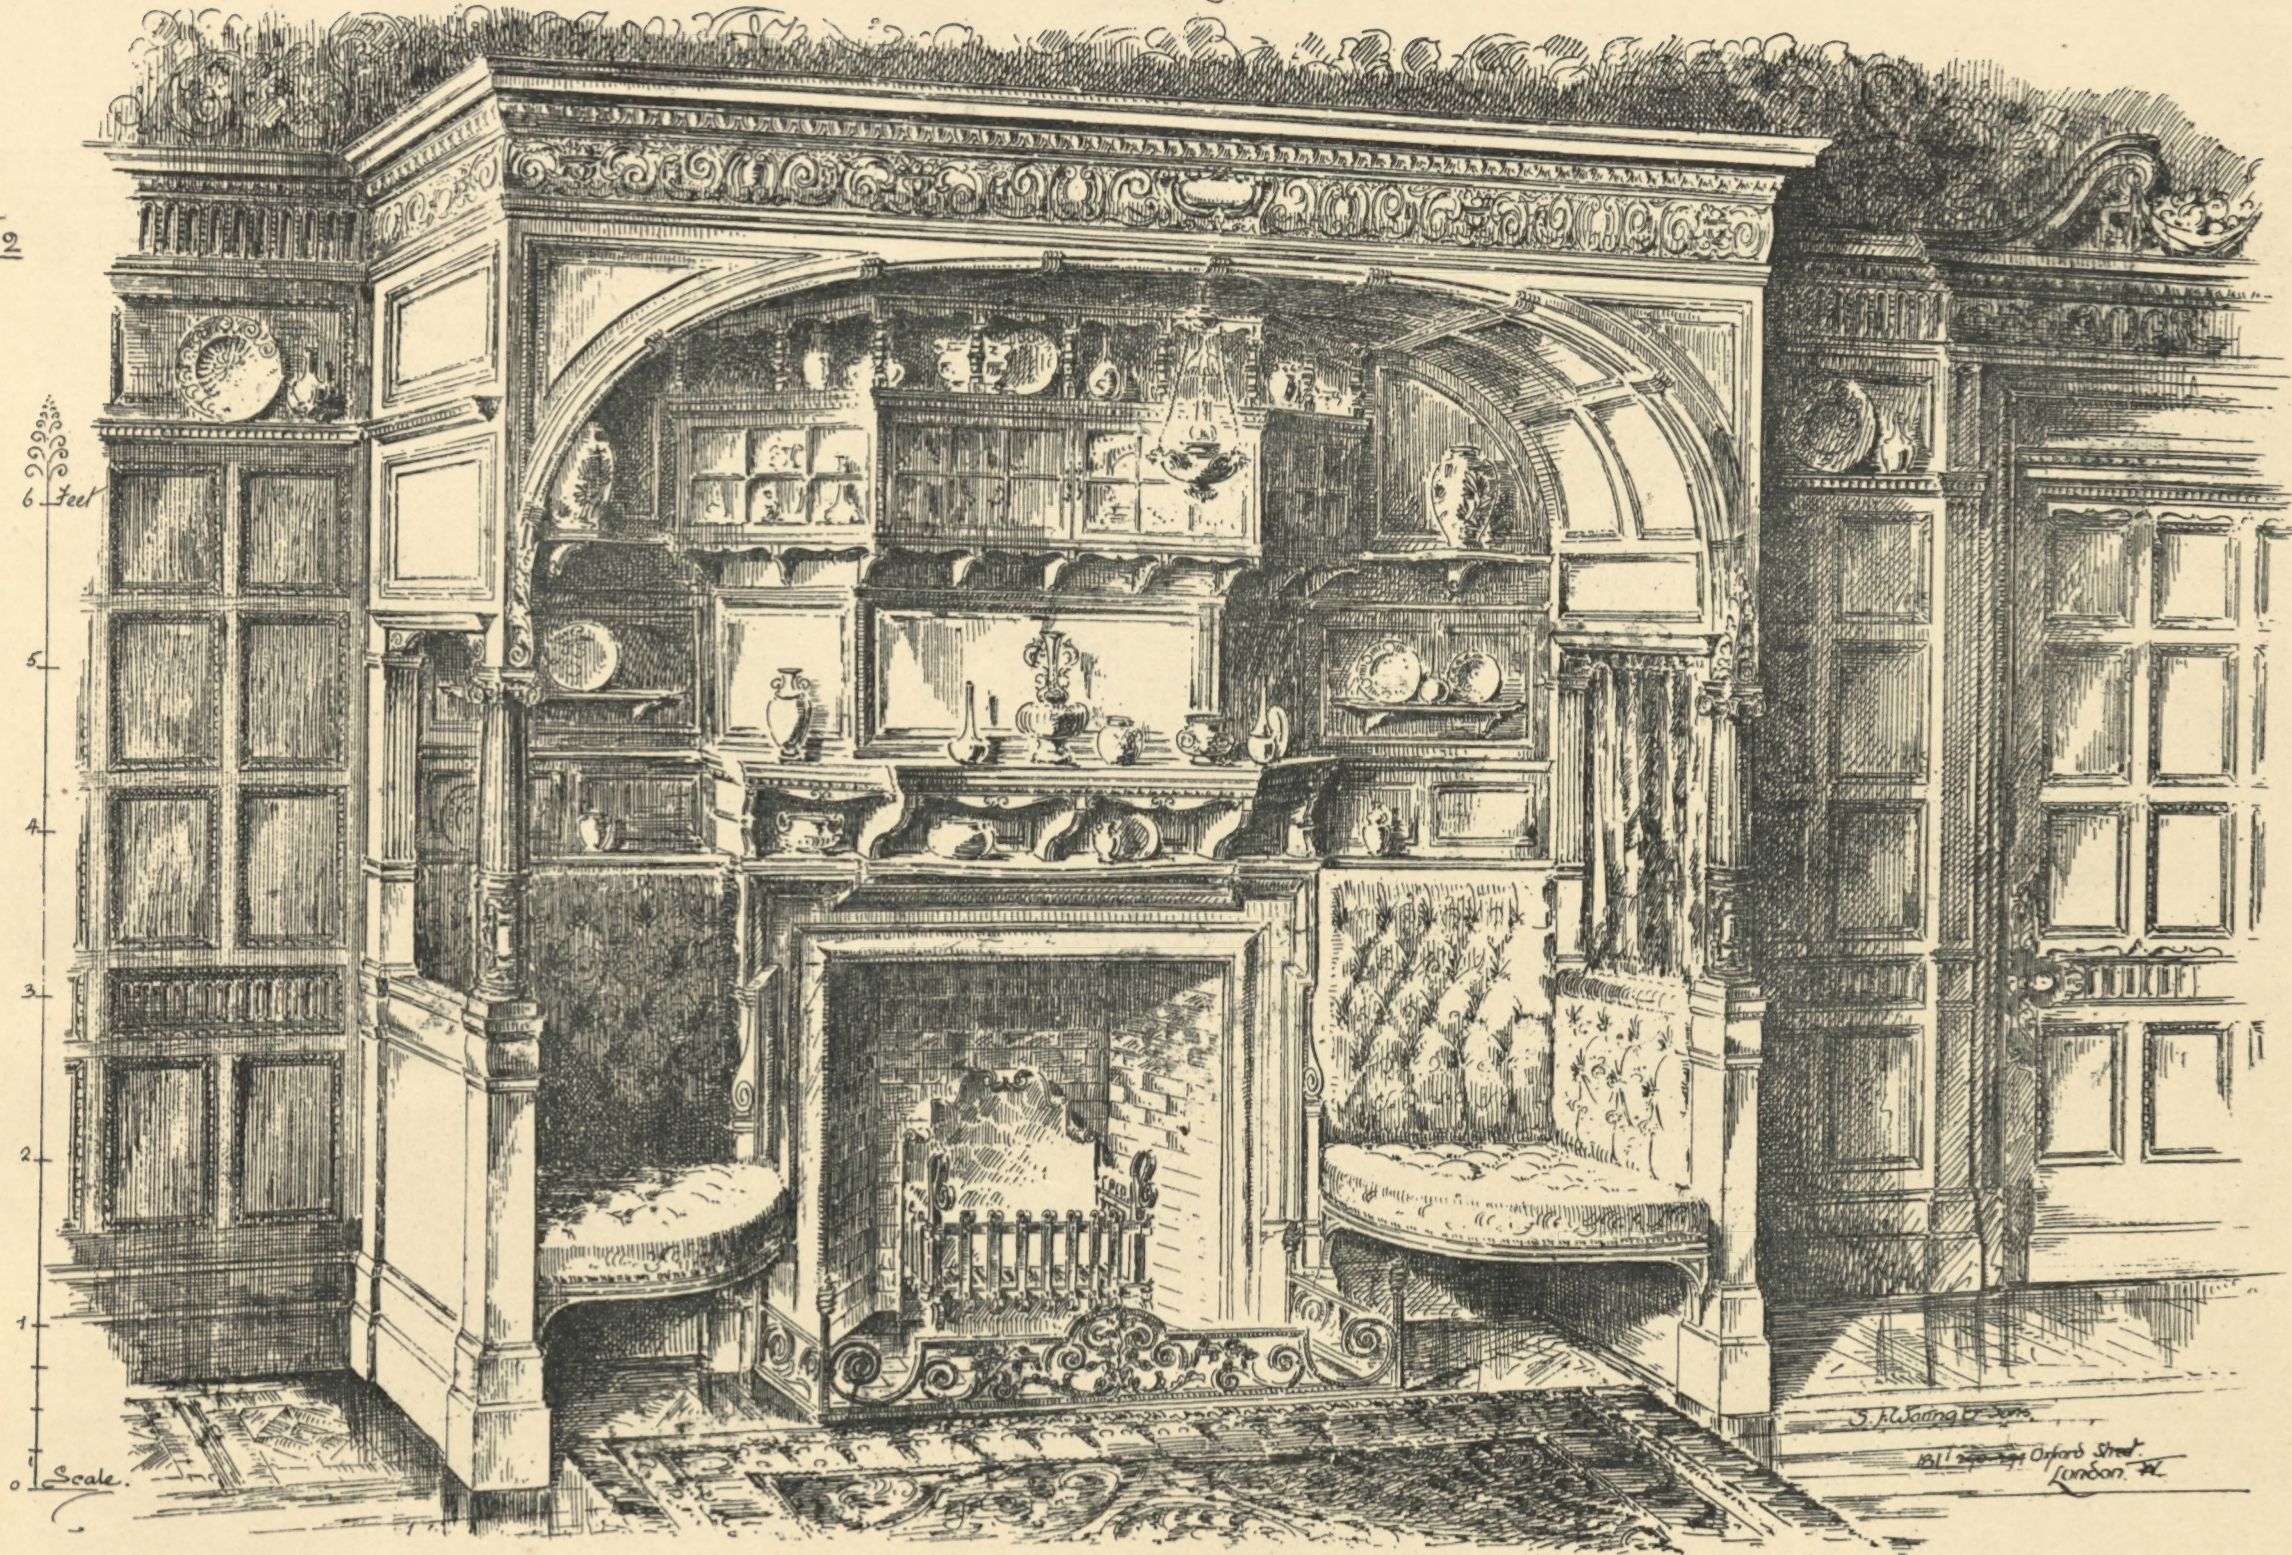

Special terms to Builders and Shippers for quantities of a pattern.

The prices quoted are for Stock sizes, the grate opening for the more general patterns, being 38 in. by 38 in., and those for small rooms 30 in. wide by 36 in. high. Sometimes it is necessary to make a small extra charge for making single mantels to special sizes.

THE "KOSMA" GRATE

The "Kosma" grate has initiated a new era in domestic heating, as it is a happy combination of the well known qualities of the English fire grate, with the economical features of Continental heating apparatus, and since its comparatively recent introduction, has, to no small extent, revolutionised the warming of private houses, and public institutions.

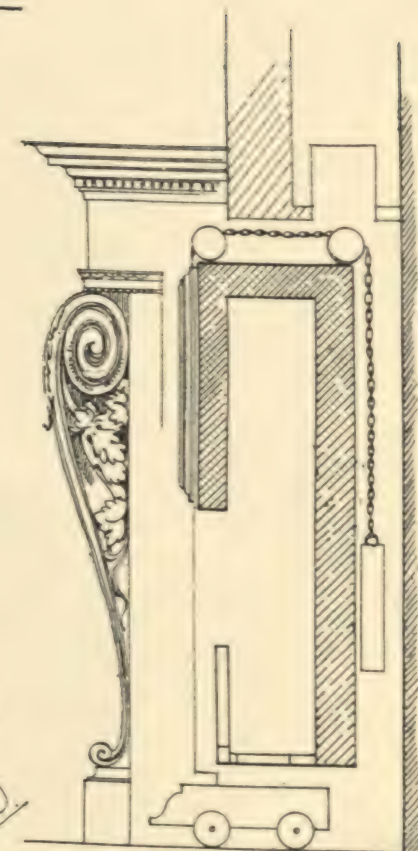

No constructive alteration is necessary, as it fits into the usual aperture in the chimneybreast. From the peculiarity of its construction, not only is the heat of the glowing coal, secured to the room, (instead of in a great measure passing up the chimney, as is the case with most grates) but the cold air is by a skilful arrangement of the mantelpiece, heated and diffused throughout the room, the economy of which is at once apparent.

S.J. Waring & Sons Ltd have examples of the "Kosma" grates in their show rooms at London, Liverpool and Manchester, where they can be seen in conjunction with decorative treatments.

PATENT.

N^o 624

The "KOSMA" secures,

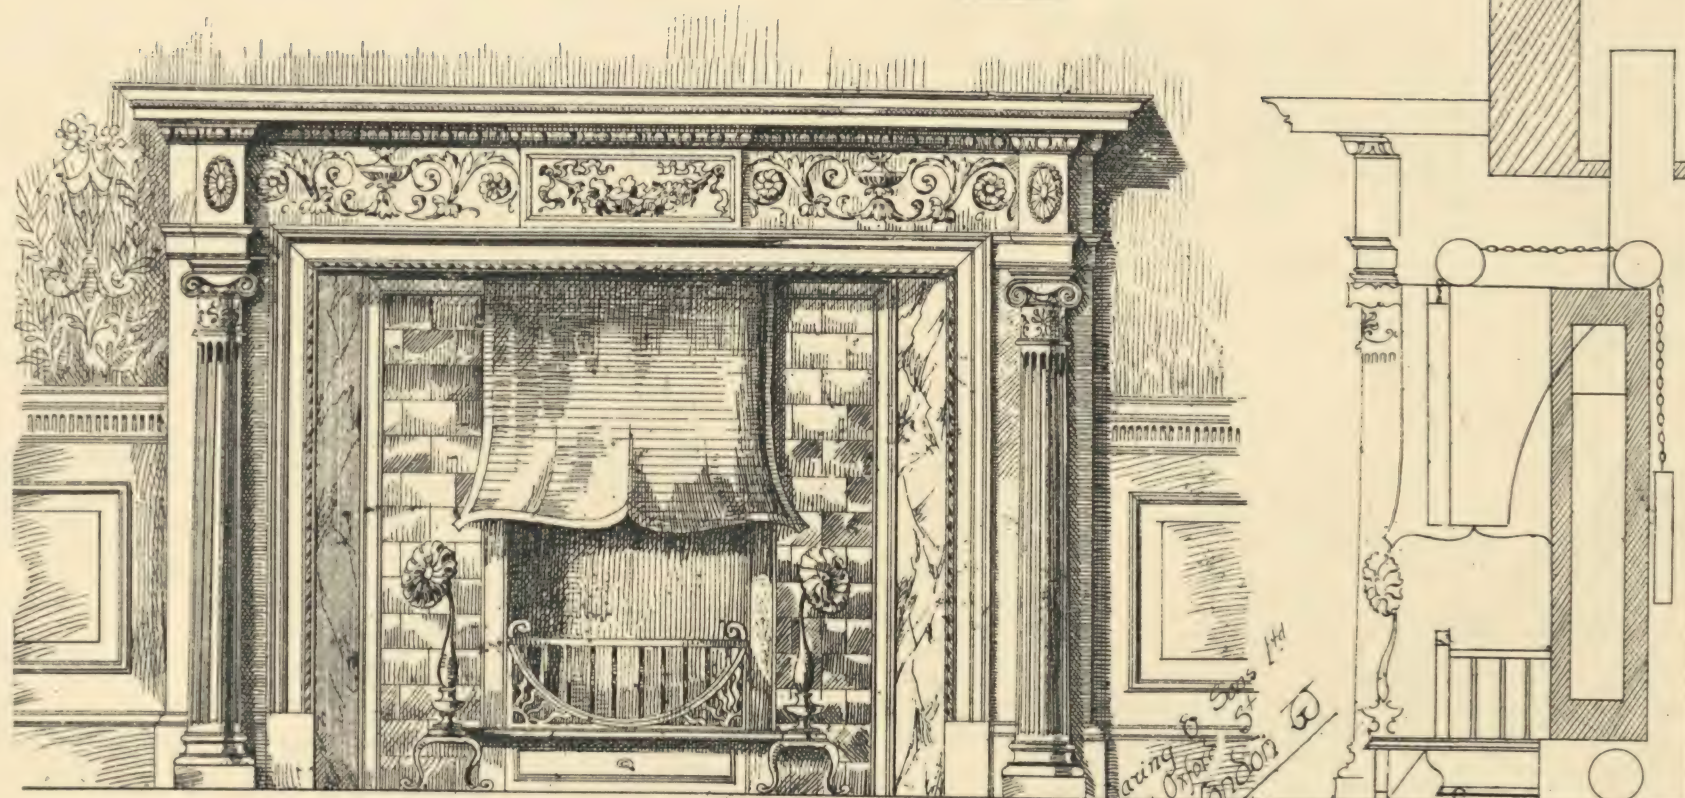

A. A cheerful open fire with unvarying warmth, in place of the fluctuating temperatures of the ordinary grate, so often the cause of chills and lasting injury to health.

B. Economy in fuel, as the whole of the heat produced radiates in the room, the back and sides being productive, in addition to the front, and by closing the blower when not required, an appreciable reduction in the consumption of fuel is effected.

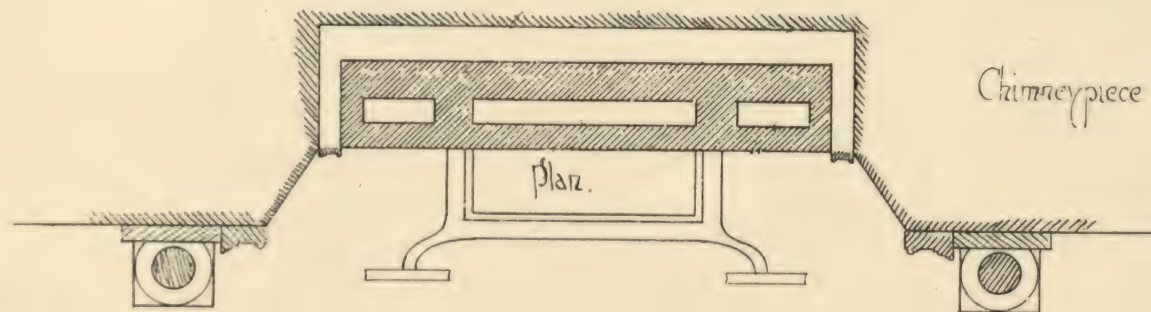

C. Safety from fire (so frequently overlooked in the construction of ordinary grates), is secured by the provision of a hot air chamber all round the grate.

D. They can be made to special designs and arranged to harmonize with existing decorations or to form part of an artistic treatment.

S.J. Waring & Sons Ltd have examples of the "Kosma" grates in their showrooms at London, Liverpool and Manchester, where they can be seen in conjunction with decorative treatments.

(SOLID WOOD)

C. H. & Sons' solid wood panelling will be found to be of special value, and they unhesitatingly invite an inspection. At the prices stated, it will be seen that a room can be panelled, in the simpler designs, for what is really a very small outlay.

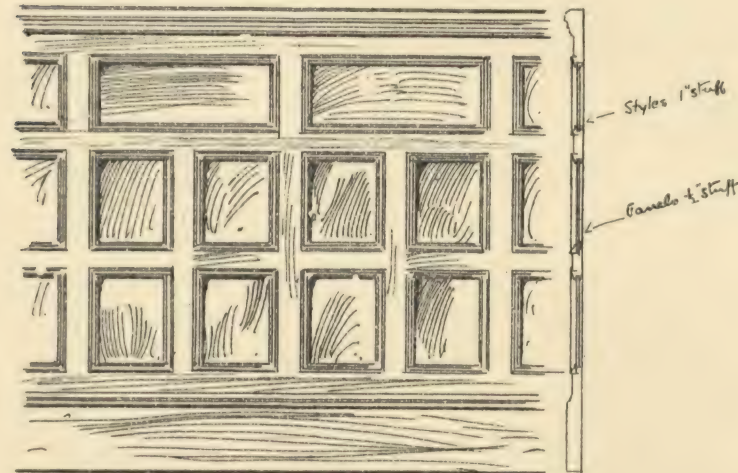

For painted dados, a very effective way at a still less cost, is to fix a dado rail and mouldings upon the plaster above the skirting. Surbase mouldings for top of dado, and picture mouldings can be supplied to any section.

Design A.

These two designs of sides of Rooms are made from those prepared for work lately carried out by us. Design B was carried out in oak and shows how an effect, the end of a room can be produced making use in this case of some structural defects in the building, the unsightly projections being absolutely lost sight of.

Filled furniture while economizing space can be so designed as to improve the appearance of the room at an expense about equal to that of ordinary furniture.

Design B.

Competent assistants sent to all parts to take particulars and instructions for carrying out any kind of fitted work. In the hands of a skilful designer bad proportions can always be remedied and the most satisfactory results obtained.
